

Sherlock and the Baskerville Beast by Corrine Gosling Illustrated by Andrea Alemanno

5 Stars

What a beautiful book!

Sherlock, a fluffy dog, I suppose like an English sheepdog, overhears his “human mother” being warned by the local policeman that there is “a big animal from the forest roaming around the area.” Sherlock immediately jumps into action to find this “beast.”

I love this book. The story is perfect. The drawings that accompany the story are truly superb. The colours used are soft but hugely effective.

I’m hoping that we won’t have to wait too long for the next instalment.

Corrine Gosling and Andrea Alemanno, you’re a great team. Don’t stop!
