

The Second Footman by Jasper Barry

4 stars

Max's cunning plan to enrich himself with passion!

Max Fabien was the second footman working at the Duchess de Claireville's estate in France during the 1880s. He met an aristocratic man named Armand de Miremont to become an accomplice in a fraud. Max was also called Jean because the Duchess was confused with the ranking of footmen's names. For example, Michel was the first footman and Jean (Max) was the second footman etc.

Max was fluent in Latin and recited poems. He and de Miremont fell in love with each other. Max was very tall and handsome. De Miremont sometimes lost his temper and then apologised to some people.

I enjoyed this steaming gay romance novel and thank Jasper Barry for it!

Caesar 13

Breakaway Reviewers received a copy of the book to review.