

The Single Ladies of Jacaranda Retirement Village by Joanna Nell

5 stars

Retirement and growing older is not all it is made out to be in this delightful, moving story.

Peggy Smart, Brian Cornell, Angie Valentine and others live in the Jacaranda Retirement Village amongst friends and enemies. The larger community in this novel include doctors, nurses' children and grandchildren. Some are delightful, some very trying.

In this moving, hilarious novel full of love, friendship, angst and a few nail-biting times the characters evolve into endearing people. Peggy is charming, Angie is still glamorous, and Brian is an absolute gentleman. Their lives are not without current troubles that they timidly, boldly and wisely take on. These troubles cause much hilarity as the outcomes unfold.

There are past secrets as well that make you sit on the edge of your seat while reading. These astounding secrets could end or deepen life-long friendships.

I highly recommend this heartwarming book that will keep you smiling for weeks!
